13 FEATURING LESTER BUTLER

Ask for FLOATM6111

Lester Butler's first band, The Red Devils, made the legendary CD 'Live At King King' which was one of the most riveting and sought after blues albums of the 90s but, worried that they'd never top it, the band couldn't stand the pressure and broke up!

Butler knew he still had some good stuff in store so in 1997 he formed 13 with up and coming bluesmen Alex Schultz, Steven Hodges, Smokey Hormel and Andy Kaulkin (later to be James Harman's band) and together they developed a new feel on some old classics from Howlin' Wolf, Elmore James, Big Joe Williams, Willie Dixon that they recorded alongside Butler's own compositions of lowdown, dragged out blues.

Lester Butler had done it again - achieving much critical acclaim for his brand of pumped out high octave blues but it was to be 13's one and only album. Critics were still praising the vitality and originality of Butler and 13 when, only a few months after the CD was released, the tragic news came through that Butler had died of an overdose.

That album is reissued here with a bonus of three live cuts from 1997. Lester Butler believed that the harmonica was the natural lead instrument in a blues band so every track has tons of forceful driving amplified harp reeling out vibrant, intelligent solos time after time. He had a great blues voice too; a distinctive holler that works on slow numbers like his own Pray For Me and hard boppers like Elmore's So Mean To Me. Guitar isn't neglected though, as Alex Schultz matches Butler's harmonica with some great playing, especially on tracks like Smokestack Lightnin' and Close To You.

This cracking CD will thrill those of you who missed it the first time around but even if you're already familiar with it, the three stonking live bonus tracks from the Taminés festival in France are a very welcome addition.

Lester's star might have been short lived but by golly, it shone bright!

JSP77151 Bo Carter: And The Mississippi Sheiks. Another winner from JSP, a whopping 100 sides from one of the greatest Mississippi bluesmen ever, both solo and with his family and friends that made for the swinging Mississippi Sheiks. Deep blues, novelty songs, funny risqué numbers (nobody did these better than Bo), social comment, and more. This has the lot - just reading the list of song titles is entertainment enough! Compiled and annotated by Neil Slaven, this is a must-have for any blues lover. Read our review on page 1.

REVEREND JOHN WILKINS: You Can't Hurry God - Big Legal Mess CD (BLM0259)

John Wilkins is the pastor of Hunter's Chapel Church in North Mississippi. That's right - the one that Fred McDowell worshipped in and the place where he recorded that wonderful Testament album Amazing Grace! Other locals Wilkins preached to were wife players Othar Turner and Napoleon Strickland. And if you want further first league name-dropping, Reverend John is the son of the legendary Memphis blues singer turned preacher Robert Wilkins! This is John's first album and it mixes in blues, gospel and soul into a fascinating melting pot of styles that boil over into one of 2011's most provoking CDs. Not to be missed.

Usual price £12.15; campaign price until 24 Feb £11.50

MISSISSIPPI FRED McDOWELL: Down Home Blues 1959 - JSP 2CD (JSP4227)

Here are the recordings made by Alan Lomax and the Library of Congress of Fred McDowell when his particular style of sheet metal slide guitar and wondrous rhythms were known only to a few friends in Como, deepest Mississippi. Extraordinary performances that set the blues world alight in the early sixties and led to a glorious career for Fred. Also included on this packed set are recordings by Forrest City Joe, Ed & Lonnie Young, Miles & Bob Pratcher and John Dudley. Primal blues tucked away all in the same place for your convenience and sheer pleasure!

MISTAKES WERE MADE (5 Years of Raw Blues, Damaged Livers & Questionable Decisions) - Broke & Hungry 2CD (BH13008)

A retrospective of the label's artists featuring a 50/50 mix of issued stuff and unheard items. Intense blues including T-Model Ford's rampant hill country beats, Duck Holmes stunning recreation of the Skip James Bentonia style of guitar playing, RL Boyce's mess of jagged guitar licks that set your teeth on edge and LC Ulmer's divine seven minute semi-electric guitar wrangling - the most original thing I've heard all year. There are tons of great blues performances here on this fabulous release.

Usual price £16.75; campaign price £15.25

MOSE ALLISON: The Collection - Floating World 2CD (FLOATM6068)

This features some supreme jazz noodling by the blues fan's favourite blues singer jazz man. Containing tons of material from his early albums on Prestige and Columbia, it grooves along at a brisk rate with such timeless "hits" as Seventh Son, Eyesight To The Blind, Parchman Farm, Young Man's Blues, Baby Please Don't Go, One Room Country Shack, Fool's Paradise, Lost Mind, If You Live and more - each one performed with those cool, lived-in vocals that made Mose our main man. A fabulous collection that should be in every record room. Especially yours.

Usual price £9.15; campaign price £8.25

SHAWN PITTMAN: Edge Of The World - Delta Groove CD (DGPCD145)

Shawn Pittman's home-made album that ranks with anything that his contemporaries have issued in the last five years! He made some guitar based demos and added drums, piano and bass and discovered they sounded a lot like those old 50s and 60s records he loved so much. He asked his sax playing buddy to add a few notes and away he went rockin' out with as much sheer energy as the Fabulous Thunderbirds, Duane Allman and Johnnie Johnson all rolled into one. The guitar playing is awesome, the sound is terrific and the songs are just what you been waitin' for! This came out about July and it's still one of the hottest items on our record player.

Usual price £13.45; campaign price £12.15

BABY HOW CAN IT BE? Songs Of Love, Lust & Contempt - Dust To Digital 3CD (DTD16CD)

Vintage music from the 1920s and 1930s that does your heart good, from the lusty rampancy of Fess Williams I'm Feeling Devilish, Harry Roy's My Girls Pussy (a song about a cat I understand) and Ukelele Ike's advice If You Can't Land 'Er On The Old Veranda to the romantic interludes that are The Mississippi Mauler's My Angelina, Lottie Kimbrough's heart-aching Lost Lover Blues and Burnett & Rutherford's More Pretty Girls Than One. I've only got a hundred words to describe this but that's impossible. Trust me, buy this CD set and you'll live happily ever after.

Usual price £29.50; campaign price £27.95

MISSISSIPPI FRED McDOWELL: Come & Found You Gone - Devil Down CD (DEVILDOWNCD001)

Field recordings recorded in 1967 by folklorist Bill Ferris at an informal house party where Fred simply let his hair down and blasted out a set of familiar tunes and more obscure material. His wife Annie joins him for five religious numbers where he weaves in and out of the vocals with emphatic and intricate lines. But it's the bluesy riffs, stinging slide licks and punchy rhythms of the songs like Shake 'Em On Down, Letter From Hot Springs and the title track that get the goose pimples goin'! If you're already a McDowell addict, you'll be thrilled to hear these damn-near forgotten recordings. Buy this today.

Usual price £13.75; campaign price £12.45

GOSPEL ALIVE - Sacred Recordings Made In The Field - JSP 3CD (JSP2304)

If you like your gospel stacked with raw emotion, frenzied performances and open-throated, searing, screaming vocals you will definitely want to hear this house wrecking music from some of the most dynamic and electrifying performers America ever knew. It's filled with tremendous stuff from Dorothy Love Coates, The Pilgrim Travelers, The Swan Silvertones, The Mighty Clouds Of Joy, The Spirit Of Memphis Quartet and many more. You know how brilliant these artists are on studio recordings, but just wait till you hear them live and kicking. If anybody could ever shake those rafters, it's these folks. As compiler Opal Louis Nations says "if this doesn't have you off your feet and into the air, nothing will!"

price £12.75

SHATTERED DREAMS - Funky Blues 1967-1978 - Beat Goes Public CD (CDBGP229)

Someone at BGP knows exactly how to compile a cracking CD. These are blues that were born in the late 60s and early 70s when the old style of blues was in danger of going out of fashion amongst the younger set, when the smart bluesmen decided their music had to move with the times. So guitar players like Lowell Fulson, Albert King, Larry Davis, Buddy Guy among others came up with a beat that never let up and actually got people back on the dance floor. Young musicians like Shuggie Otis and Smokey Wilson were glad to get involved and they provide some of the more dynamic performances here but I'd like you to take a listen to Freddie Robinson's Good Feeling one time and then persuade me that Lowell George never listened to it!
